

CHILLED BUT HAPPY children gather around fireman Bob Webb while he calls off the names of winners for the gifts that were given away at the event. The Firemen's Association, used to set the annual Firemen's Fish Fry in May, but changed the date to mid-June so that the weather would be warmer. They were fooled by nature last night when a cold wind chilled everybody.

FIREMAN MARIO COLETTI reached down to help little Dely Miller, daughter of Bill and Geska Miller, who decided that it really wasn't too cold for a drink of pop.

Hundreds Chilled at Fish Fry

Nearly 400 Palm Springs residents and more than twice as many fried trout were thoroughly chilled by a sharp wind last night. The annual Palm Springs Firemen's Fish Fry at Tamarisk Park was declared a big success today by Fireman's Association President Jim Harris despite a radical change in temperature which sent the usually balmy summer mercury down to 53 degrees.

At 7 p.m., when the Fish Fry was opened, a line of people had already formed at the new portable kitchen, and from that minute until about 9:30 p.m. the cooks kept up a steady service of trout, green salad, corn-on-the-cob, coffee, beer and pop.

Harris said officers of the Firemen's Association made a last minute switch in plans, thinking that few people would brave the chilly night to come out for the fish fry, and left almost half their order of fresh trout under refrigeration at the firehouse. By 8:30 p.m., the lines were still lengthening, and chefs were running out of almost everything.

Proceeds from the annual fish fry are used by the Firemen's Association for training, equipment, and the Firemen's Benefit Fund.

Farm Labor Bills Backed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg has urged speedy House approval of five migratory farm labor bills designed to eliminate "often intolerable conditions."

In a letter to Speaker John W. McCormack, D - Mass., Goldberg said Friday he was certain the Senate-passed legislation "enjoys the overwhelming support of the American people and will do much to improve the welfare of migratory farm workers and their families."

The bills involve the education and health of migratory workers and their families, child labor, registration of crew leaders and an advisory council of migratory labor.

The crew leader and children labor measures have been approved by the House Labor Committee and are awaiting clearance by the rules committee for full House action. The others are awaiting action by various committees.

$10 MILLION DESERT INN PLAN

Council Faces High-Rise Issue

A July 9 public hearing on the proposed $10 million Desert Inn development is expected to be set by the Palm Springs City Council during the 7:30 p.m. Monday meeting.

The big mid-town development plan by Desert Inn owner George Alexander and Samuel Firkas has gained approval by the Palm Springs Planning Commission—but the city standards under which they may be required to develop final plans haven't been set. High-rise standards — a requirement for the eight-story tower hotel Alexander plans for the 886,000 square foot site — will be discussed by the council Monday evening.

A city administrative spokesman emphasized Saturday that "There won't be any discussions — the whole thing will be setting the public hearing." Previous presentations to the council of the general plan drew standing-room-only audiences, for talks by Alexander and architect Charles Luckman.

Public hearings are set Monday on annexation of Section 35, north of the current city limits on Indian Avenue; a resolution of intention for assessment district 55; and a resolution of intention for assessment district 56.

Assessment District 55 is for sewer installation on Patencio Road, San Jacinto Road, Tahquitz Drive and Arenas Road. Assessment District 56 is for Sagebrush Road sewers.

The council will consider renewal of the airport consultation contract of Hal K. Friedland, and an authorization to employ Friedland for a possible $2,000 engineering and technical needs studies.

The council will consider award of contracts for airport fencing. The job, estimated at $53,295, drew a low bid from Cyclone Fence of $48,759.75, and four other bids ranging to $69,604.

A major airport matter which may be on the agenda for council approval is the expected Federal Aviation Authority offer for a 1962-3 grant. The city had requested $781,024, but the grant if prepared in time for Monday consideration, is expected to be pared by reductions in fencing costs from previous estimates.

Planning commission items before the council Monday will include an application by Levitt Southwest for architectural approval of a hotel building on East Palm Canyon Drive east of the Holiday Inn; a master road plan for Section 22; application by Doran May for change of zone from R-2, limited multiple dwelling to R-3 hotel and apartment for Sands Hotel site property; and the request by Leonard Wolf for plan approval for a proposed $2.5 million apartment project at San Rafael Drive and McCarthy Road in Section 34.

Floods Hit 6 Midwest Farm Towns

Heavy rains triggered flash floods early today, forcing residents of six South Dakota towns to leave their homes. Twisters and hail hit parts of the plains, and cloudbursts drenched Dixie.

About 300 National Guardsmen rushed from Rapid City, S. D., to inundated areas of the Black Hills to help rescue flood victims.

State police said persons fled their homes in Deadwood, Lead, St. Onge, Whitewood, and Fort Mead, S. D., where storms dropped up to four inches of rain during the night.

Authorities said about 200 persons were moved to higher ground in Whitewood and St. Onge and nearly all roads to the area were blocked by high waters.

A nighttime tornado slashed Nenzel, Neb., destroying at least one house and injuring two persons. Severe hail and heavy rain accompanied the twister.

Funnel clouds were spotted near Casper, Wyo., and golfball-size hail battered Cheyenne, Wyo., in the evening.

A thunderstorm drenched Augusta, Ga., this morning with 1.5 inches of rain in less than an hour. In an earlier six-hour period, Homestead, Fla., was soaked with 2.61 inches.

PALM SPRINGS

Tax Boost Is Question Mark

Palm Springs property owners can expect a tax boost for city and some county services for 1962-63, but the actual rates will remain a question mark until August.

A hold-the-line policy on the tax rate is apparently felt in many county budgets, and in the Palm Springs Unified School District as well as the Coachella Valley Junior College District.

Robert T. Andersen, county administrator, told The Desert Sun that the county general fund budget could result in a rate equal to the $2.07 1961-62 rate, but may be lowered if the assessed valuation meets expectations.

Board Cut $2 Million
The county, with a $652 million assessed valuation during the past year, had a $36.5 million budget. Budget proposals for 1962-63 forwarded to the board of supervisors by Andersen totaled more than $43 million, but were sliced to slightly more than $41 million in supervisory studies Wednesday.

For the city of Palm Springs, the probable trend is upward, possibly adding eight cents to the past year's rate. City Manager Dan Wagner submitted a proposal for the first city operating budget to top $2 million, and the first total budget above $3 million, with estimates of an eight-cent tax rate increase.

Two Prime Questions
The budget predictions, based on an estimated $80 million assessed valuation for the city, include variables which face budget drafters each year. Top questions are how much will valuations climb, and what will the ending figure carry-over total.

The city manager's budget has realigned in minor detail during more than a week of councilmanic budget hearings and studies, but without inching the predicted general fund rate below the $2.09 mark. Acting City Manager Charles Kasmer told the council. The budget, still subject to a councilmanic recap Tuesday, will probably total the $2,061,963 for operations that were tallied in Wagner's recommendations.

Arson Adds To Terror In Algeria

ALGIERS (UPI)—Secret Army Organization agents set fire to the courthouse, six schools and two government offices in the West Algerian city of Sidi Bel Abbes, reports reaching here today said.

The arson Friday in Sidi Bel Abbes, home of the French Foreign Legion, coincided with spectacular attacks in Algiers, where OAS bombs partially destroyed the city hall and the big Mustapha Hospital.

The reports said Europeans, apparently OAS members, set fire to the schools, the local finance authorities' office and the council for reconstruction headquarters in Sidi Bel Abbes, then defied a curfew Friday night to set the Palace of Justice ablaze. One of the schools burst into flames again today.

In Algiers, salvage crews searched through the wreckage of the city hall for the bodies of victims of a bomb that shattered part of the heavily-guarded building last night.

Early today, fires were still burning in several parts of the building despite night-long efforts by firemen to quench the flames.

At least one French soldier was killed and 43 were wounded in the bombing, most severe so far in that OAS "scorched earth" campaign to destroy French improvements in Algeria.

This Just Isn't The Way to Run Any Railroad

BURLINGTON, Iowa (UPI)—Four Air Force men got everything right but the month Friday.

They landed their C123 cargo plane at the municipal airport, climbed out and announced to officials, "Here's the plane we promised you for the annual Burlington air show."

Officials expressed their appreciation, but said the show was scheduled for July 15, not June 15. The embarrassed fliers turned around and went back to Chanute Air Force Base in Rantoul, Ill.

Solons Boost Appropriation To Launch Area

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Space Committee has voted to authorize the spending of more than $3.8 billion this year and next by the Federal Space Agency.

Included was $3,749,515,250 in authorizations for the year beginning July 1. That was $37,760,750 less than the administration had requested but some $78 million more than approved by the House.

The bill also would authorize a $71,000,000 supplemental authorization for the current year including $35 million for the current expansion at Cape Canaveral and $16 million for real estate at a new test facility in Mississippi.

The committee acted soon after Robert C. Seamans, associate director of the National Aeronautics and Space Agency, asked for restoration of $116,114,000 eliminated from the bill by the House. The Senate committee restored $45,833,250 of it.

In addition the Senate added $32 million for the recently disclosed 14,800-acre second-phase addition to installations at the Cape. The House had not considered that item.

SEOUL (UPI) — The entire cabinet resigned today after Lt. Gen. Song Yo Chang quit as premier of South Korea in apparent protest against the currency reform decreed last week by Gen. Park Chung Hee's military junta regime.

Planners Knock High-Rise Bans

The Palm Springs Planning Commission met in breakfast session Friday, to eliminate some problem areas in the high-rise standards discussions which go to the city council Monday.

The commission, meeting without vacationing Chairman John Miller, hashed the controversial high-rise problem from 7:30 a.m. to 11 a.m., and knocked out some major restrictions.

Eliminated in the talks were restriction of sites to mountainside areas, minimum lot sizes below that required in the sight-line formula and minimums between buildings.

The planners decided that high-rise buildings would not become sufficiently general to cause a sudden crush of towering structures. The sight-line requirements—approximately a 17 degree grade—would require spacious sites for high-rise.

"High-rise is an indefinite term under current standards," commission member John Seaman told fellow members. He had explained Thursday that high-rise could be anything "over 30 feet."

The commission adopted a 100 foot elevation maximum in the proposed standards. If adopted, the 100 foot construction would permit approximately nine stories, dependent on site topography.

The commission meets with the city council in a study luncheon session Monday. The council is to study standards in the Monday evening session.

Some $30 in cash and checks was stolen from Mrs. Virginia Fisher of Villa Victoria yesterday evening. Mrs. Fisher had left her apartment for 30 minutes and returned to find the money missing from a cabinet drawer and her purse, reported police.

Commission Studies Auto Races at Airport

The Palm Springs Airport Commission is considering a proposal from Merrill Lowell, 972 Coronet Circle, for auto races including possible "grand prix" formula runs on the city-owned runways—but the chances of approval are limited.

The commission received Lowell's proposal, explaining that policy adopted by the commission prohibits the speed events on the airport.

The major reason for the rejection of racing proposals here last year was commission concern that the events might interfere with the primary airport purposes.

Lowell told the commission that a sanction from the Federation Internationale d'Automobile might be arranged to give a possible grand prix event here lofty status in motordom's timed gear-clashers.

But, he explained, several races would have to be run before the international arbiter of road racing's blue book would endorse this resort site.

The prospective promoter told the commission, headed by insurance man F. Thomas Kieley, that he would hope to bring auto racing here regularly if the airport races were a financial success, and if the FIA sanction materialized.

POWERFUL APHRODISIAC

Drug Cache Seized in Church; Pastor Faces $500,000 Suit

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—State agents have identified a drug cache seized in a raid on a South Gate church as a powerful aphrodisiac used by natives in the Dominican jungles.

Agents of the state Board of Medical Examiners found six plastic bags of the drug, known as Pago Pela—the root of a vine found in the Dominican jungles. Agents raided the Christian Chapel Wednesday.

Literature found in the chapel said Pago Pela formed a mixture when soaked in alcohol that would produce "invigorating experiences."

Other drugs taken included capsules identified as Methadrine, a stimulant, and Librium, a tranquilizer.

Dr. Ray Charles Jarman, pastor of the Christian Chapel, Wednesday had a $500,000 damage suit his congregation. It charged Jarman persuaded the plaintiff to take a dangerous hypnotic drug which led him to attempt suicide.

Don McCollum, 52, Long Beach, charged he was fraudulently persuaded to take a drug identified as Lysergic Acid-Diethylamide-25, also known as LSD. The substance is used mainly in the treatment of schizophrenics and is regarded experimental.

The suit said McCollum spent nearly three months in mental hospitals after his suicide attempt last March.

A WORTH WORTH $24,000

Pretty Penny Paid

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—Even in today's inflated economy, a woman who pays $2,000 for a dress creates an image of wealthy frivolity.

Yet, a century ago, a woman who could have rated one of those best-dressed lists, if there had been such things for great-grandma, might have spent as much as $24,000 for one garment. And no one would have said much except, "It has a House of Worth label."

The Paris-based firm founded by an Englishman ruled supreme in international fashion from 1858 to 1910, when anyone who was anyone—with money—wore the Worth label.

The legend of Charles Frederick Worth, who started as an apprentice draper in London and produced what today is called French "haute couture," is being recreated this summer at the Brooklyn Museum which is showing an exhibit of 50 Worth gowns until June 25.

Dresses Lasted Forever

The man who arranged the exhibit is Robert Riley, research consultant at the museum, who said Worth at the height of his career employed 1,200 to 1,500 persons in his Paris establishment.

Riley said in an interview that it was not unusual, on the basis of records available, to find a customer billed for $15,000 to $24,000 for a single ball gown.

"Yet," said Riley, "the wearer got her money's worth. With the help of her own little dressmaker altering here and there as the years passed, a dress lasted a lifetime."

Worth, born in Lincolnshire, was apprenticed at 10 to a draper (salesman of yard goods) when his father, a lawyer, suffered financial setbacks. At 20, he took off for Paris, where his first jobs also were with drapers.

No Modern Parallel

Riley said that no name today can compare to that of Worth as the dominant force in fashion for an era.

He said the industry today can thank Worth for originating the idea of the living model to show off clothes; for instigating the wholesale fashion business, because until Worth began to sell his designs to stores internationally, a woman depended on her own little dressmaker for production of clothes; for the numerous peripheral industries which it created and still are going today—textiles, trimmings, accessories and perfumes;

For the savvy of Worth's son, Gaston, who in the 1890's organized the Chambre Syndicale of French designers to protect their creations from being copied; and for Worth's contribution not only in creating an age of elegance but in the practical techniques he developed for dressmaking. His development of basic patterns, for instance.

These could be interchanged to provide a variety of styles. One bodice pattern with standard armhole could be fitted to some 30 different sleeve designs, Riley said. One group of Worth sketches shows one skirt varied a dozen different ways just by trim.

Shades Can Add Interest

You can achieve the effect of architectural changes in an old-fashioned home by the way you hang your window shades.

A single large shade, hung over two small windows and the wall between, will create a contemporary feeling of spaciousness that will add decorator interest to your room. For accent, add an oversized shade pull, such as a wicker handle or a large wooden ring painted to match, attached by a decorative cord.

'Slim and Trim' Class Set By Recreation Department

Hips bulging just a little? Shorts a bit tighter than they were last summer?

Then just for you are the "Slim and Trim" classes being offered by the Recreation and Special Events Department of the City of Palm Springs. Set up as a part of the 1962 summer recreation program, the one-hour classes will get under way on Monday evening, beginning at 8 o'clock, in the pavilion on the Polo Grounds.

Frankie Johnson will instruct the course, which is open to teenage girls and women from 16 to 80 years of age.

More inches can be whittled off in the swimming program, already under way and continuing through Aug. 24 every day except Sunday. Classes are held from 1 to 5 p.m. and 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the Palm Springs High School Pool.

Golf instruction is also being given every Wednesday at the Municipal Golf Course.

Anyone wishing further information about these or other classes may call the recreation department any day from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prolonged overdoses of vitamin A for several months may cause loss of appetite and weight, irritability, hair loss and itching rashes in a young child, Dr. B. Joffe, of New York, reports.

City's Recreation Program Attracts Hundreds

Children and Adults In Varied Activities

By BOB ABBEY

Hundreds of school children and scores of adults are giving fun and relaxation a free rein in Palm Springs, enjoying the summer recreational program which is packed with sparkling activities both days and evenings.

Action for everyone of all ages from six to 80 years old is in the summer program which offers an abundance of activities ranging from a story hour for grade school children to square dancing and bridge for the adults.

This barely scratches the surface in the vast variety of summer activities now in full swing in Palm Springs, for there are special events scheduled for each day of the week.

Every Sport

For the sports-minded, there's almost every type of outdoor and indoor sport available with competent and experienced instructors on hand to supply the best in instruction to not only the beginner but the intermediate and advanced participant.

One of the popular outdoor sporting events is the tennis clinic conducted every Tuesday from 7:30 to 9 p.m. for high school students and adults at the Tamarisk Park courts by Dave Gillam, Racquet Club pro. These group tennis lessons for the racquet swingers are gaining popularity each summer and a great deal of interest has been displayed by the students who want to not only learn the correct fundamentals of the game, but also to improve their court ability.

Winter Capital??

It's almost unbelievable the interest residents have shown in golf, in the recreational program, which is usually considered the sport that causes the resort desert area to bulge to the seams with winter guests during the season. For years Palm Springs has been labeled, "The Golf Capital of the World," and with 15 golf courses in the immediate vicinity — that label will definitely be a permanent fixture.

But with the golf interest mushrooming to such heights during the summers, it isn't entirely unlikely that in the future the word summer might be added to the label.

Each Wednesday evening two golf clinics are held for boys, girls, and adults from eight to 80 at the Palm Springs Golf Course. Conducting the golf clinics are Zell Eaton, club pro, and Al King, assistant.

The eight to 17-year-olds swing

Actor Convicted

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI) — Television actor Billy Gray, who plays the young son in the "Father Knows Best" series, Wednesday was convicted of illegal possession of marijuana.

Superior Judge Mervyn A. Aggeler allowed the actor to remain free on $2,625 bail and ordered him to return July 13 for sentencing.

into action at 6 p.m. for a 30 minute session and the 18 and over group start the balls rollin' at 6:30 for a 45-minute lesson. After each lesson, the ardent students take to the driving range to practice instructions received during the teaching session. During two recent clinics each group averaged better than 30 golfers.

Swimming Program

Since the days of the ol' fishing hole, muddy creeks, sandpits and rivers, the most popular summer sport has been swimming.

Wednesday afternoon the swimming program opened for children and adults ranging in age from five to 80 in the Palm Springs high school Olympic-size pool. Lessons are being given to beginners and intermediates and a special family plan is available.

New this year are the boys and girls swimming teams and any service club, fraternal organization or church group wishing to stage a swim night may do so by making the arrangements with the recreation and special events department.

Swimming lessons for the younger groups begin at 1 p.m. Monday through Saturday and from 7:30 till 9:30 p.m. adult swimming takes over.

Lynne Hamerschlag, swimming instructor indicated a large group of young swimmers has been signed for the lessons which will run through the month of August.

Arts and Crafts

The arts and crafts program will open next Tuesday at 9 a.m. at the Cielo Vista School with eight instructors on hand to assist children from eight to 15 years of age.

Lessons offered include model airplane and boat building, art, handicrafts of all kinds, modeling clay, story telling library, shell craft, playground operation, movies, belt and purse weaving are on the agenda for beginners and advanced youngsters. Special arts and crafts for 12 to 15 year olds are available in a separate classroom.

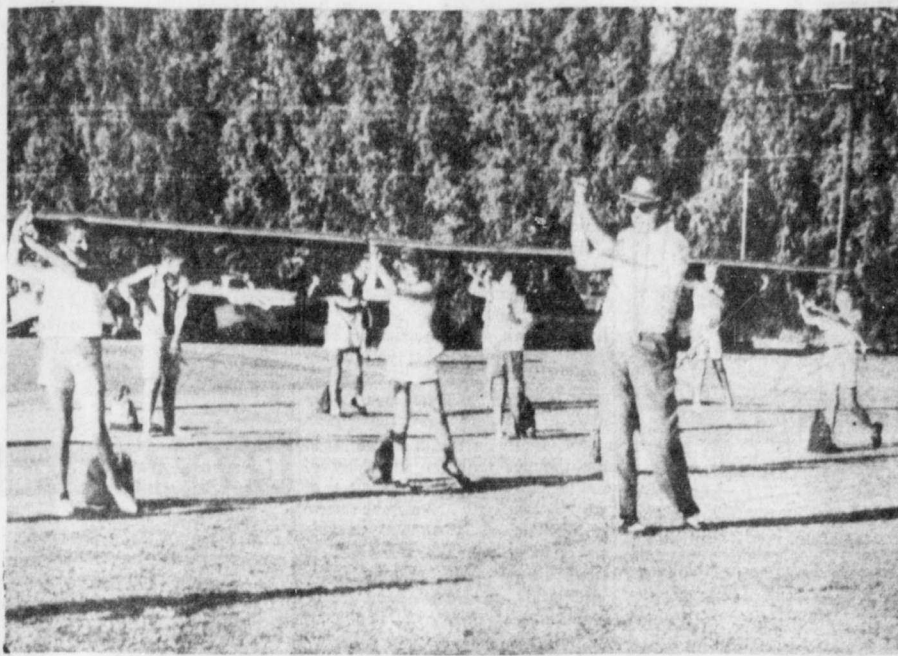

Square Dancing

Many groups of "do-si-do" square dancers have been in the swing of things since June 5 at the Pavilion on the Polo Grounds. With Osa Mathews doing the calling, this social activity is popular among juniors and adults alike and the Junior Golden Square Club members have been invited to dance with the adults.

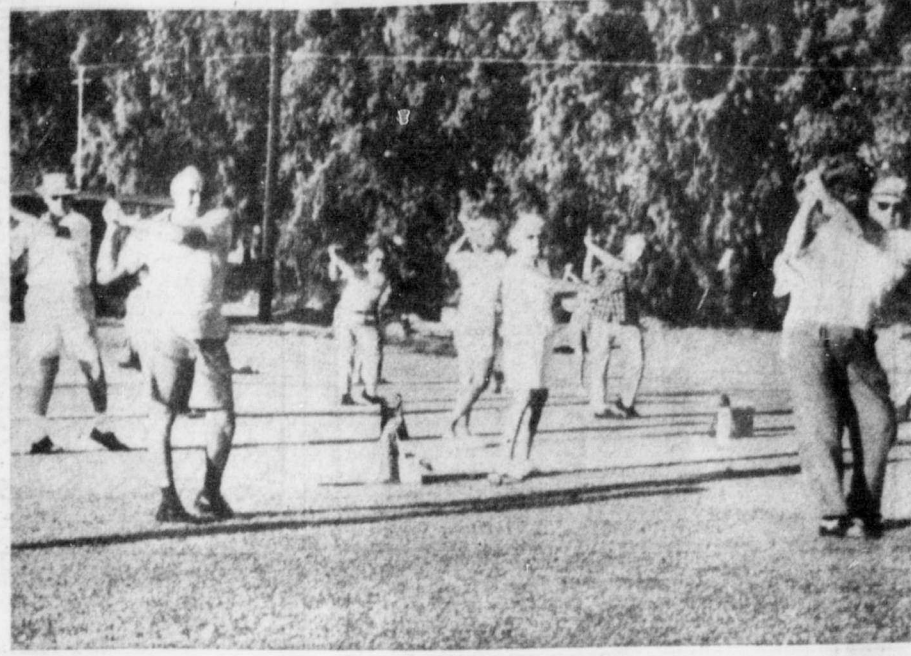

Classes for beginners as well as intermediate dancers are conducted weekly starting with children in the fourth grade on up through the seventh grade.

There are many other activities available that round out the 1962 summer recreation program in Palm Springs that is and will provide "Fun For Everyone" during the summer months to follow.

Additional information on any social or sports event anyone might be interested in may be obtained by contacting the city recreation and special events department.

GOLF instruction at its best is given each Wednesday evening at the Palm Springs Golf Course by Zell Eaton, club pro, and Al King, assistant pro, to youngsters and adults in two separate clinics which are part of the recreational program sponsored by the city of Palm Springs. Photo above shows the group of youngsters, age 8 to 17, getting the feeling of a good golf swing. At right the adult class follows the instruction of two golf pros. (Desert Sun Photos)

TV in Review

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—To television viewers, Thursday night's world premiere of the dance-drama "Noah and the Flood" by Igor Stravinsky may be significant to future programming for the way it was conceived.
While music and ballet experts hash out a verdict on the master's latest creation — his first written expressly for television — there is hope in the fact that it was initiated by a network, CBS, which commissioned him to do it.
One such act does not a renaissance make, of course. And it is to be hoped that similar gestures do not continue to be so few and far between — or await the publicity and prestige that accompany such events as Stravinsky's 80th birthday, which occurs Sunday.
But there is some comfort in the thought that the lessening of single-sponsor control, because of the increasingly enormous costs of putting on a show, provides an opening for the networks to move in on — to assume more command in originating programs.
The power of the "middleman" agencies, which work between the sponsors and the networks, is still considerable. But with the rising production costs, the dominant single advertiser — with his absolute control — is giving way to multi-sponsor deals for shows.
It would be silly to think that this happy situation will result overnight in a golden age of television. But it does seem that the networks could now take it upon themselves to build up their use of talents and opportunities they have slighted. For instance:
There is much talk about the wasteland, but not enough about the wasted land — the America between New York and Hollywood where every day colleges, local theaters and smaller television stations produce shows that could help overcome the shortage of network material.
There is no rule that creativity is confined to the cultural pop-jays of Madison Ave. or the sunglasses set of Sunset Blvd. The wasteland after all, was molded in these centers of creativity.

The squirrel's name comes from two Greek words "skia" and "oura" meaning "he who holds his head over his back to shade himself."

Angels Give Chisox Victory, 7-6; Dodgers Skunked by Houston, 2-0

Ex-Dodger Throttles L.A. Club

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The fans came out Friday night to cheer Don Drysdale to his 11th victory, but ex-Dodger Jim Golden won their admiration by hurling the Houston Colts to a 2-0 shutout win over Los Angeles.

"I'd have to call it my biggest thrill," said Golden after the game. "It was not my best pitched win but it certainly was the most satisfying."

And the Colts announced they would attempt to follow the same formula tonight when they send another ex-Dodger, Dick Farrell (4-6) to oppose Johnny Podres (3-5).

The victory was the first for the Colts against the Dodgers at Los Angeles and several other ex-Los Angeles players had a hand in the win.

Norm Larker drove in the first Houston run in the opening inning when Drysdale gave up three of the six hits charged against him in the eight innings he worked.

In the eighth, ex-Dodger Bobby Lillis got a triple and scored on Golden's grounder, beating out the attempted out at first base. Lillis' hit bounded away from left fielder Tommy Davis and the Colts shortstop was on third by the time Davis recovered the ball.

Golden kept the five Dodgers hits scattered. In the second inning Los Angeles had consecutive singles by Ron Fairly and Wally Moon but catcher John Roseboro filed to Al Spangler in shallow left field and Fairly was thrown out at the plate attempting to score from first.

The victory was only the third for the Colts against Los Angeles in 12 games. In their previous visit here Houston dropped three straight games.

"We only scored five runs in our last four games," manager Walter Alston mourned. "At that, I thought we hit a little better than we had in recent games."

Alston announced he was moving Fairly to the cleanup position in place of Tommy Davis who will be dropped to fifth in the batting order.

ENGLISH NEED VICTORY

EASTBOURNE, England (UPI) — Billy Knight of England met Carlos Fernandes of Brazil today and Mike Sangster took on Thomas Koch with the English needing one victory to clinch their European zone quarter-final Davis Cup match.

Brazil remained in contention by winning the doubles Friday when its team of Ronald Barnes and Jose Mandarino defeated the English pair of Knight and Tony Pickard, 19-17, 1-6, 6-4, 9-7.

THREE WIN TWO

OCEANPORT, N.J. (UPI) — It was double or nothing for jockeys Ray Broussard, Sam Boulmetis and Howard Grand at Monmouth Park Friday, each coming up with two winners on the eight-race program.

Broussard won with On the Watch and Flang Dang. Boulmetis and Oxford Lass and Ram-bunctious and Grant scored aboard Run Through and Noble Stan.

SCARPA TAKES FINAL

HAMILTON, N.Y. (UPI) — Paul Scarpa of Florida State defeated Joe Brown of Pittsburgh, 8-6, 6-1, 6-2 Friday in the finals of the 40th Eastern Intercollegiate tennis tournament. Florida State also won the Benish Cup as team champion.

TIES ROSBURG TO LEAD

Palmer Starts Move For U.S. Open Crown

OAKMONT, Pa. (UPI) — Arnold Palmer and Bob Rosburg knock heads today for the U.S. Open golf championship with Billy Maxwell, who reached his greatest peak as the amateur champion, leading the pack breathing hot on their heels.

The muscular Palmer and the pudgy Rosburg, tied at the end of the second round with three under par 139's, go out together for the two final breathless circuits of the Oakmont course known as "The Monster."

The odds favored Palmer, shooting for a slam of the British Open and PGA title if he can add this one to his Masters crown, because he's playing in his own back yard and what shapes up as a tremendous gallery will be rooting for him on every shot.

Two shots back of the leaders, who tee off at 9:31 a.m., will be the chunky Maxwell. The little Texan, a quietly consistent money winner in his nine years on the tour but never a world-beater, moved inconspicuously into second place with a 70 for 141.

But there will be more watchful eyes on a tough right banked at even par 142, three blows off the pace but ready to take charge should the front-runners falter.

They are Jack Nicklaus, the two-time amateur champion; young Kentuckian Bobby Nichols who has been a steady winner on the tour, and South Africa's steady-nerved Gary Player, hoping to become the first foreign winner in 42 years.

Nicklaus shot a second round 70 in which he hit every back nine green in regulation for nine straight pars, not once being able to drop a birdie putt. But he and Player, who had a par 71, as well as the young and eager Nichols, had the youth to handle those demanding 36 holes today.

Not out of it yet, either, were first round leader Gene Littler and Miller Barber of Rye, N.Y., who stood at 143. Littler, hoping for a successful title defense, began the chase with a 69 but fell back badly Friday with a 37-37-74 as his putter went sour. After them the chances got dimmer with few of the pros expecting anybody to be able to handle the rugged Palmer in a one-day 36-hole marathon carrying this kind of pressure when he was running on the front end.

Rodgers Maffs Putting

Phil Rodgers, who took an eight on the 17th hole in the first round Thursday and four-putted the 10th green in the second round Friday, was tied at 144 along with Don Whit and Dave Douglas.

Jacky Cupit, former Masters champion Art Wall, Gay Brewer, Canadian Stan Leonard, and Tommy Jacobs were in the 145 bracket. Those at 146 included the leading amateur, Deane Beman, and Wes Ellis. The Hebert brothers, Jay and Lionel, were in the group at 147 while a stroke behind them came Doug Sanders and Mike Souchak.

'Mudcat' Closes Door On Yankees

Jim Grant wears the single stripe of a private first class on his good right arm but he rates a 21-gun salute worthy of the commander in chief as far as the Cleveland Indians are concerned.

The reason is that the 26-year-old native of Lacoochee, Fla., has developed the knack of beating the New York Yankees at just the right times. Any time is the "right" time to beat the Yankees according to their rivals but Grant seems to do it when it hurts the perennial champs the most.

Mike Haas Competing in Rich Open Bowling Classic

A bowler from Palm Springs is competing in the famed World Open Classic, a $141,150-guaranteed tournament now in progress at La Habra "300" Bowl, 20 miles southeast of Los Angeles. The 164-day tournament runs through Labor Day.

Competing in the 20-game singles event is Mike Haas. He rolled 3,601 scratch for the 20 games and 3,641 with his handicap.

His scores were not high enough to place him among the current leaders of the classic's standings. The rich tournament is attracting bowlers from throughout the nation and Canada, including some of the sport's most famous stars.

The World Open Classic features a 20-game singles event for men and women, plus a 10-game team event, five-game doubles, five-game singles, three game doubles, three-game mixed doubles, and all events. First place in the men's 20-game singles pays $5,000 each in the handicap and scratch divisions and there are 86 awards of $1,000 each in this event.

The Cirones Bit of Italy team rolled the hi-team game of 595. The Sunrise Shell Service team moved into a tie for first place with Cirones Bit of Italy, when they took four games from El Mirador.

Had Game In Bag — Then Boom

CHICAGO (UPI) — Los Angeles Angels Manager Bill Rigney has developed a curious new way of handling his pitching staff — curious because it apparently has been losing games.

Rigney pinch hits for his pitcher — with the Angels ahead — and then a reliever comes in and blows the game. It's enough to make one get dizzy just thinking about it.

Against the Chicago White Sox Friday night the Angels held a 6-4 lead in the top of the eighth inning and pitcher Ken McBride seemed likely to get his fifth win over the Sox without a loss.

So, Rig lifts McBride for a pinch hitter in the eighth. The White Sox score an unearned run in the eighth. Floyd Robinson triples home two more in the last of the ninth of LA's third reliever Tom Morgan, and Chicago wins 7-6.

Rigney did almost the same thing last Wednesday night. With the Angels leading Minnesota, 2-1 in the seventh the Los Angeles skipper pulled rookie pitcher Dean Chance for a pinch hitter. Final score: Minnesota 4, Los Angeles 2.

It wasn't known what plans Rigney had in store for Don Lee (5-3) when he pitched against Chicago's Ray Herbert (4-4) as the Angels and White Sox met today in the second game of the series.

McBride had shut out the White Sox on two different occasions this year, both by 1-0 scores. However, he was behind 4-1 going into the third inning Friday night after Joe Cunningham lashed a bases loaded triple for Chicago in the third.

Then Angel third baseman Felix Torres slammed a two-run homer in the fourth to make it 4-3.

Chicago starter Early Wynn, attempting to gain his 29th victory, was chased when Los Angeles tied the game 4-4 in the fifth on Leon Wagner's 16th homer of the season.

Bob Rodgers, tripled and scored on Torres' single to open the sixth, and the Angels made it 6-4 when Billy Moran — who also socked two doubles — powered a home run.

The Sox rallied, however, on Robinson's one-out triple in the ninth sending home Nellie Fox, who also had tripled, and Jim Landis — the latter all the way from first.

Elks Nip Bejacks, 5-4; Chi Chi Wins by 7 to 1

In the Pony League Friday evening the Chi Chi nine continued their winning ways by scoring a 7-1 win over the P.S. Paint team at the Polo Grounds before a chilled crowd of baseball fans.

John Bunker teamed with Dick Brubaker in hurling a three-hitter and striking out nine batters and giving up but five walks in the team's victory. Big guns for the Angels were Fred Auiroz, who slapped out a double and a triple to drive across 2 runs and John Bunker who also registered two RBIs and went two for two.

Sanley Martin, the losing hurler, pitched a fine game as he whiffed seven Chi Chi batters and only allowed four walks. Carl Bernough scored the only tally for the P.S. Paint nine when he stole home in the fourth inning as he collected two hits in the game.

In the other game last night, the B.P.O.E. "Elks" bounced back to hang a 5 to 4 defeat on the Bejacks in one of the more exciting games played thus far in the Keystone League.

Santa Clara In NCCA BB Finals

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI) — Michigan, fresh from a day's rest, collides tonight with a Santa Clara crew still sweating after a narrow escape from defeat to decide the national collegiate baseball championship.

Mickey McDermott dashed around the bases and narrowly avoided a tag to score Santa Clara's winning tally in the top of the 10th on an inside the park home run Friday night which booted Texas out of the NCAA tournament.

Michigan, Santa Clara and Texas all wound up the first four rounds of the double-elimination tournament with one loss and the Wolverines won the bye.

The winner tonight qualifies for an excursion to Hawaii where the American diamond champ will take on a Japanese collegiate team in a best of three series June 22-25.

Golfing with ALEX MORRISON Teacher of Champions

This form by Stan Leonard enabled him to score 65-67 to lead in the first two rounds of the 1962 Palm Springs Classic.

STAN LEONARD, early this year, joined the multitude of puzzled golfers.

The 47-year-old Canadian champion led the field in the first rounds of the 1962 Palm Springs Classic with a sizzling 65-67. His fine drives enabled him to place iron shots close to the pin. His putting netted him five or six birdies each round.

But he didn't like the low flight of his irons so he practiced to send the ball in a higher flight with a little hook.

He explained: "I want to know that the ball isn't going to run far after landing."

This notion or the slightest change in his lineup was enough to puncture his scoring spree. The usual lament: "I had it, then I lost it," should not be attributed to the vagaries of golf.

The most drastic changes in playing equipment, playing conditions and courses can't affect performances nearly as much as the slightest negativities in the player's application.

S.L. Cards Wax Down Giants, 5-2

Dark Dashes Home Without Any Comment

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Shortly before game time Friday night, manager Alvin Dark of the groggy San Francisco Giants mused, "The boys will play better ball now that they're home from that rugged road trip."

Shortly after game time, Dark set some kind of a record in piling out of his uniform and taking off for his Atherton residence after the Giants lost another to the St. Louis Cardinals, 5-2.

A three-run homer in the first inning by Charlie James made the difference for the Cardinals who now have won 10 out of 11 while the Giants incurred their ninth loss in 11 outings.

Dark couldn't be located for comments after the loss. But he is expected to rush Juan Marichal (9-4) to the hillcock today in the latest effort to make the club fly right. Juan will be faced by Larry Jackson (5-6) the hard-throwing right hander.

As if things weren't bad enough for the Giants, first baseman Orlando Cepeda sustained a charley horse in his left thigh vainly trying to score a run during the third inning and was taken out of the lineup.

"I dunno—I dunno if I start or not tomorrow," the big swatter moaned afterward, hobbling for the exits.

James, who now has collected seven hits in his last 12 trips against Billy O'Dell and clubbed the Giants' southpaw for six RBIs during that span, sliced a wicked shot over the right field barrier to mess things up early for the Giants.

The blow also started O'Dell toward his third loss this year in four decisions with the Cards and gave him a season mark of 7-5. James added a single off Billy in the fourth inning then laced another in the seventh, stole second and tallied the Cards' fourth run on a base hit by Gene Oliver.

A wild pitch by Stu Miller let the final St. Louis tally scoot across in the eighth.

Ray Sadecki struggled the distance for St. Louis although giving up six walks to go with seven hits. Three double plays got him out of trouble and he fanned Willie McCovey with two on and two out in the seventh.

Hot fishing in the wonderful waters of the Sea of Cortez were enjoyed by William J. Maidhof, sign contractor of Palm Springs and fishing companion Laurie A. Sheklow, merchant of Palm Springs.

Fishing out of Rancho Buena Vista Lodge each man landed a marlin, however devoted most of their time to fish of smaller size and lighter tackle. In addition to marlin the two fishermen landed many dolphin, torro, cabrillo and others.
